

"Seek Goa but ' am, Or: "No wine, no party" - these are some of 53 phrases from t. and· nd the corresponding theme cards. The set wants to keep the contents ar. ·ior ional Youth Convention alive among the participants.

The International Youth Convention in Düsseldorf lived off the participants from all over the world, their enthusiasm and the diversity of the programme. This was reflected in the musical range, the colourful exhibitions in the halls and the varied lectures and offers.

Spiral stand and cards

Transporting the many impressions in their fullness is a challenge. So the makers of the stand and the playing cards decided on a clear reduction to 53 slogans - in graphic-peppy form. The statements come from lectures, lyrics, the Chief Apostle's sermon or comments by IJT ambassadors and participants. There is a matching photo on the back. Some sayings are funny, others encouraging, others stimulating discussion. So the cards are also suitable for giving them away or discussing their statements and photos in a youth class.

Beside the film report (available on DVD and BluRay) and the music-CD the set with the sayings and photos is another element to remember the youth day in Düsseldorf.

Delivery to the districts

The set of spiral displays and theme maps is currently being delivered centrally to the districts of the District Churches of North and East Germany and West Germany. The responsible District Apostles have ordered copies for all active young people (not only for the participants of the Youth Day) as well as for the youth workers. The recipients receive the set as a gift.

In the district churches of Berlin-Brandenburg and Austria/Switzerland, the sets are distributed via the church administration.

Other copies available from Bischoff-Verlag

Some remaining copies of the spiral display and the theme cards will soon be available as a set for 19.90 Euro to be pre-ordered via Bischoff-Verlag and will be available from January 2020. The set is only available in german.
